

FOR RELEASE

2026 Spatial Industry Transformation and Growth Agenda

Communications Release

The 2026Agenda has completed its first phase – the in-sector consultation – publishing all findings in the Spatial Sector: Insights Report.

The report summarises the results of 40 interviews with thought leaders across the spatial sector in Australia. Amongst the invaluable insights, the report highlights that 95% of those interviewed believe spatial technology organisations in Australia are either not achieving growth potential, or that growth opportunities are being captured by other industry sectors.

The report summarises the current barriers to growth and presents key thoughts about where transformation needs to focus over the next 10 years. The report is available at the 2026Agenda website: www.2026agenda.com

Building on information gathered so far, the 2026Agenda team is developing what will be the first iteration of a draft vision and needs statement for development of the 10-year rolling roadmap: the 2026 Agenda: Ideas Discussion Paper.

The 2026 Agenda: Ideas will lead to; defining initiatives, an action plan and roadmap. These ideas will be co-designed through national consultation, including a number of Leadership Forums taking place across Australia in September and October 2016.
